

BANKERS CRITICISE RESERVE BOARD

Comment on Rigid Rules
Against Directors Serving
More Than One Institution.

In denying applications of directors and officers of Washington banks and trust companies affected by the Federal Reserve Board's order, forbidding an officer or director of one institution from holding office in any other bank or trust company within the prescribed area, the Federal Reserve Board in a majority of instances, according to prominent bankers, declined to accept recommendations of directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond and of the Federal Reserve agent for this district.

The law provides that application of any individual who desires to serve on more than one directorate be referred to the board of the reserve bank of the district and the reserve agent, and that they make recommendation to the Reserve Board. That course was pursued in cases in question, and several of the banks affected say the Reserve Board declined to accept recommendations of the New York district.

Of the seventy-seven applications from institutions in the Richmond district on which the Reserve Board had passed yesterday, forty-nine were granted and twenty-eight denied. The only larger aggregate of denials was the New York district, where forty-eight applications were refused.

Reporter "Covers" His Own Suicide

Writes Description of Death and Then Ends His Life in Newspaper Office.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21.—Harry Howland, a newspaper reporter, wrote the story of his proposed suicide, and then carried out his plan, excepting that he took poison instead of shooting himself, as he had said in his story that he would.

Howland took poison at his desk in a newspaper office here. The copy was found after his death. Howland had devoted over the death of his wife and child in Kansas City a year ago.

In his story Howland detailed how, after writing the story of his suicide, he had sent himself outside the newspaper office. He wrote: "The weapon he used to end his life was borrowed from me—on the pretext that Howland had been assigned on a story in a remote part of the city, where frequent holdups have been committed."

A blank space to be filled in with the time of the suicide was left in the copy. The story closed with "thirty" newspaper insignia for the end.

Suffragists Change Name of Tableau

Park Commissioner Insists That Law Is Offended By That Demonstration.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—When is a suffrage tableau not a tableau? When Park Commissioner Cabot Ward says it mustn't be.

The commissioner doesn't say that the suffragists can't have the tableau they are preparing to give on the Mall in Central Park next Saturday. They can go ahead and have it, but it mustn't be called a tableau.

It seems that there is something in the law forbidding tableaux in Central Park. At least that is the way Mrs. James L. Laidlaw, the New York State Woman Suffrage party, got it yesterday when an excited voice, to wit, Commissioner Ward, called her up on the phone.

"You mustn't have that suffrage tableau Saturday," the voice informed her. "What?" shrieked Mrs. Laidlaw. "Not have it with 100 suffragists all draped in cheesecloth ready to take part? Why, we have the permit from the Park Department."

"You can't call it a tableau," said the voice. "You can call it a suffrage demonstration, or a walkless parade, or a suffrage group, or a suffrage group."

We'll send you a new permit to have a suffrage group. The man who made out the first permit for a tableau didn't know the law. Then the telephone connection ended.

Oh, well, call a suffrage tableau by any other name and it will look just as good," said Mrs. Laidlaw. So the suffragists are going ahead with their preparations, but any one who calls the thing a tableau will be mobbed.

MARYLAND TROOPERS IN "ATTACK" ON TOWN

Make Theoretical Advance Through Hostile Village.

EAGLE PASS, Sept. 21.—Reports of the activities of Villistas, coupled with the impression that the Mexican-American negotiations are progressing as smoothly as might be hoped, have dispelled the dream of Maryland militiamen to attack the town of Eagle Pass.

In the militia camps the belief is daily growing that a Mexican-American crisis is nearer right at present than for several months, and many of the guardsmen think that they may yet see service south of the border.

To be prepared for such an emergency the First and Fifth Maryland Regiments yesterday went through a maneuver of attacking a town. The camps of the respective regiments were the towns.

The attackers would march into the town in two columns, one on each side of the street so that all windows and roofs could be watched to prevent sniping. Each house was searched for concealed rifles or ammunition, and each detail of the invasion was gone through with a view to precluding possibility of an ambush.

The First Maryland Band gave a concert on the courthouse lawn at Eagle Pass last night.

Tobacco Co. to Move to Escape Labor Troubles

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The American Tobacco Company has under consideration a plan to move its factory from New York to some desirable location in one of the Carolinas, officers of the company said today.

Richmond, and Durham, N. C., are the two cities which are being considered as sites for the new plant.

Unfavorable labor conditions here are given as the reason for the company's desire to change. As yet, no definite decision regarding the move has been reached.

TUBERCULAR SCHOOL PLANS NOT READY

Preliminary Investigation Must Be Made of Number of Pupils and Classes.

No definite plans have been formulated for care of tubercular children in public schools, because preliminary investigation of the number, grades, and locations of such pupils has not yet been made, E. L. Thurston, superintendent of schools, stated today.

Present indications are that the children will not be taken care of on the roofs of buildings used for normal children, Superintendent Thurston said, because this would almost inevitably mean mingling of afflicted children with well ones.

Whatever arrangement is made this year must be a temporary one, Mr. Thurston said, because proper care of tubercular children means special feeding, outdoor seasons, which require special clothing, and payment of cartage of the children.

"If we segregate these children, we should not only provide for their school work, but we should provide for their nourishment and physical upbuilding," said Mr. Thurston. "His calls for funds, which are not now available."

"If we cannot travel a long distance to some central point for the protection of the community, I think the community should provide their care. Neither have we any money for that."

GIRL SLEEP-WALKER SCARES POLICEMAN

Young Woman Goes for Stroll in Pajamas and Cap.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Policeman Zucker on his way home from duty early in the morning, met a figure all in white.

A ghost was his first thought, but when the apparition drew nearer he saw it was a young woman, clad only in light pink pajamas and a toulou cap, walking in her sleep.

Zucker called to her and even took her by the arm, but she did not waken. Her feet were blue from cold and exposure, so he wrapped a newspaper about them, threw his uniform coat over her shoulders and commended a passing taxicab to take them to the stationhouse.

While waiting for an ambulance the young woman regained consciousness. She said she was Mrs. Mildred Horan, twenty. She had walked six blocks before Policeman Zucker found her.

Mrs. Horan went home, apparently suffering no ill effects from her adventure.

Argentine Union ANSWERS CONSUL

Replies to Request for Proof of Charges Against American Firms.

By CHARLES P. STEWART.
BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 21.—The Argentine Industrial Union today replied to American Consul General Robertson's request for specific proof of its charges that certain American firms had been guilty of improper practices in commercial dealings in Argentina.

The reply was made public in the newspaper "La Nación." The union declared that several of its members visited the consulate to submit such proof, but were compelled to converse in English, and therefore could not arrive at satisfactory results.

The union added that since Robertson's letters were in English, there were certain linguistic mix-ups in translation that further hampered an understanding.

The union stated further that Robertson received prompt action from the National City Bank of New York when he requested proof of the charges.

Like the "light burning in the window," there will be one in the keyhole if the plans of the inventor are carried out.

Announcement was made here today of formation of the Violet Ray Enamel Company, which will manufacture an enamel which will give a clear violet ray at night and be useful in enamel door fastenings, locks, keyholes, house numbers and door plates. A special drive will be made for business to illuminate locks and keyholes.
